Echoes Of The Past; Whispers Of Tomorrow

Silence; broken by only one soft footstep.
Slowly, but steadily, the footstep proceeds down the halls of Ruskin.
Just a few hours before, there were thousands of footsteps,
each moving toward a particular destination.
These footsteps, -------- -------- interrupted;
A high giggle, a friendly "Hi,"---- perhaps quiet talking having an air of importance.
These footsteps ---- lost ---- in the wild cheering during a game, the disappointed murmurs of an almost victory.
Then all is once more silent, except for one soft footstep.
A mere silhouette of many.
One footstep following along the path of those who have gone before, or perhaps leading those who will follow after
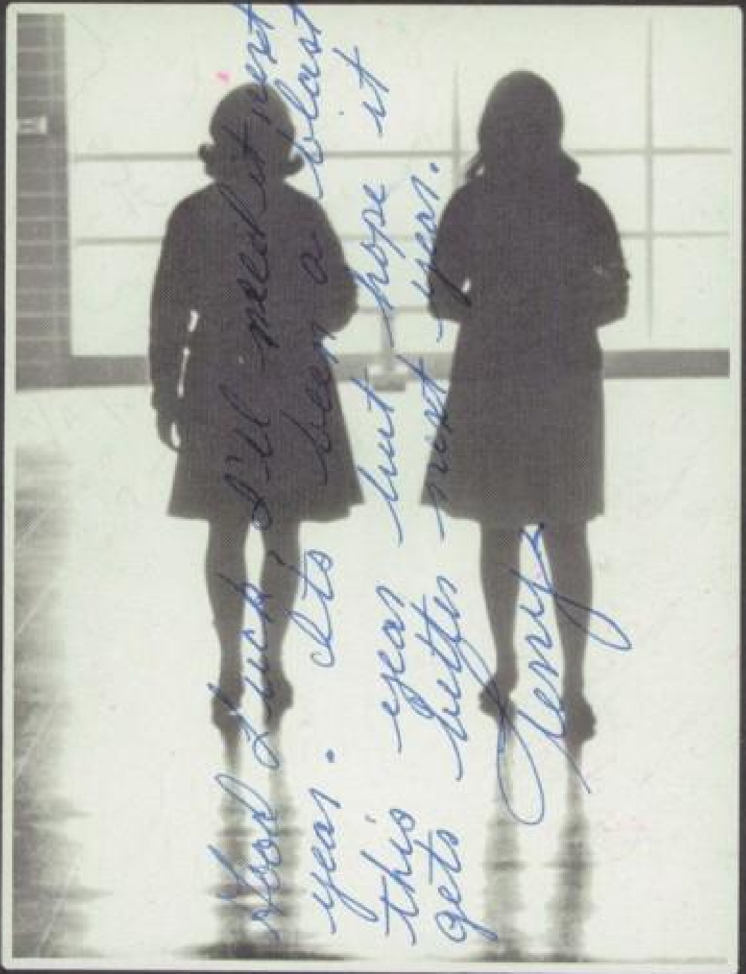
This footstep is ---- an echo of the past, ---- a whisper of tomorrow.



Good Luck, I'll need it next year. Its been a blast this year but hope it gets better next year.

RUSKIN
HIGH SCHOOL

Presented in 1957, The Eagle was the first gift to be given to the building by seniors.

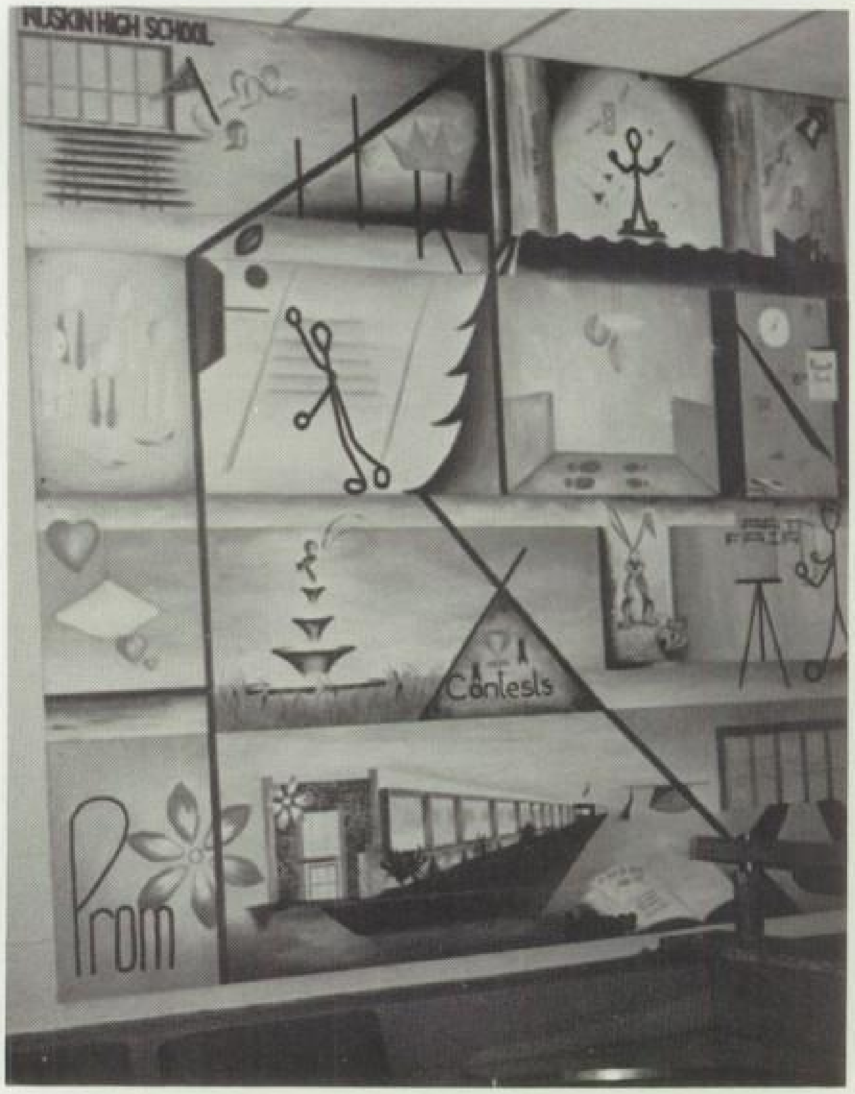
Saved from the first Ruskin building, this bell was presented by the seniors of 1961.

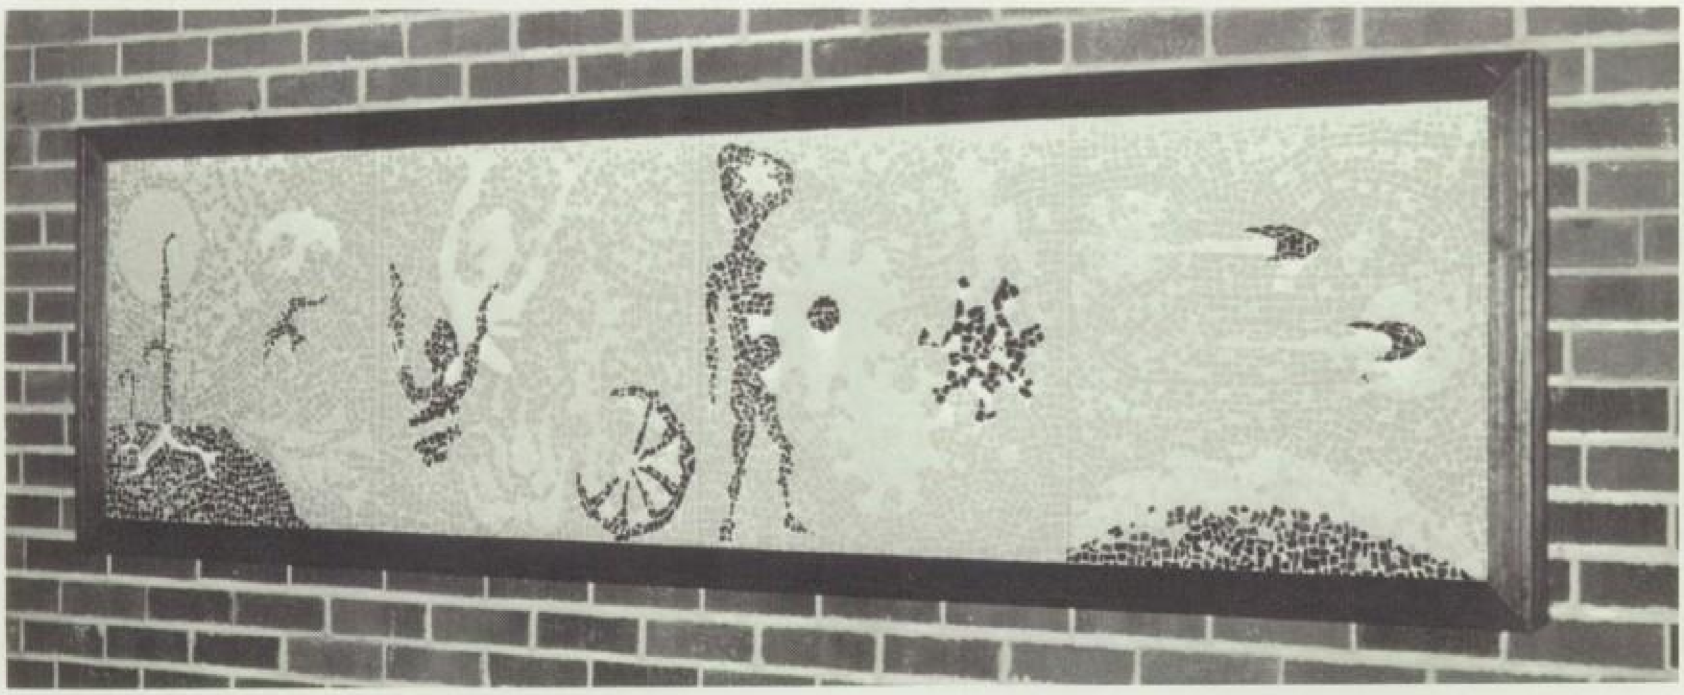
Gifts

Embedded permanently in the tile of the front hall, The Eagle symbolizes to Ruskin students all aspects of their high school years. Sophomores become acquainted with The Eagle by polishing it throughout the year. Seniors guard our school emblem and speak the words, "Shine it newcomer." All students show their respect toward their school and its symbol by never treading on The Ruskin Golden Eagle.

A bench given by the class of 1961 provides a resting spot between classes for Carmen Martinez and David Anschutz.

Showing the yearly events at Ruskin, this mural was painted by the Art Club in 1962.





This modern mosaic has hung outside of the cafeteria since it was presented by the Art Club about 1963.

Used at assemblies, the Podium-Lectern was a gift from the class of 1964.

Band, sports, and graduation are but a few of the varied activities depicted on the mural painted by the Art Club of 1960. The multi-colored painting brightens Ruskin's halls while also picturing numerous events taking place. Several of Ruskin's clubs are portrayed by their many-hued symbols. The different elements of this mural serve to emphasize the highlights of school life at Ruskin High School.

"This Week at Ruskin" provides valuable information about Ruskin's extra-curricular activities.

It has become traditional that each year's graduating class make some contribution to the school. They have chosen to do so in the form of gifts. These gifts are an integral part of Ruskin. They benefit the remaining students in numerous ways and add to their pleasure and enjoyment.

A gift symbolizes gratitude and appreciation for the education and opportunities provided at Ruskin. As each successive year passes, these gifts take their place in the heritage of Ruskin High School.

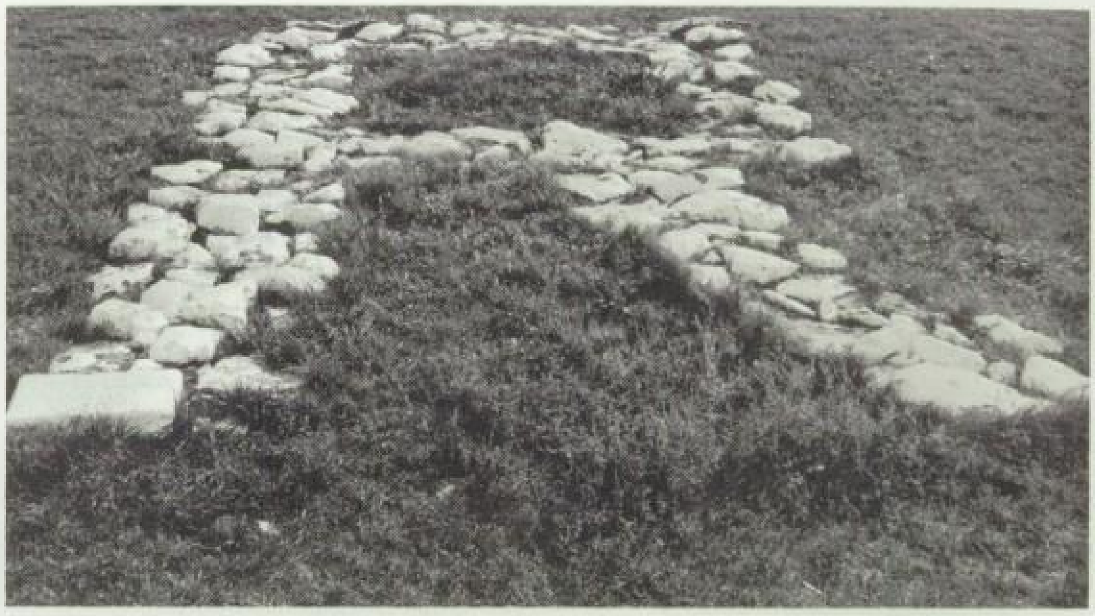
Lettering on the side of the school represents a gift of the class of "61".

Providing a picturesque view in the Ruskin halls, is the Rock Garden, a gift of the class of "66".



The Ruskin "R", donated by the R-Club in 1959, has often been utilized in the initiation of new members.

The fountain and benches furnish a place to rest in a hectic day.

The eagles and lettering on the gym signify one of the many symbols of Ruskin High School.

Ruskin has received many awards for outstanding contributions in the athletic field. These are on exhibition in the display case.

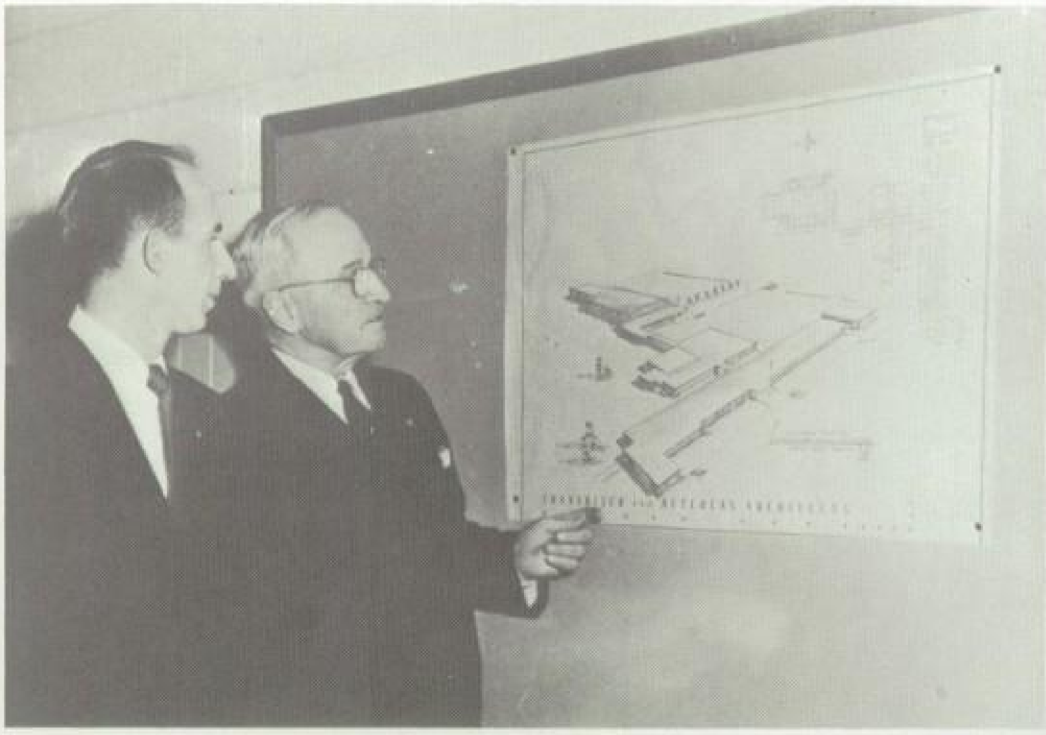
ADMINISTRATION

The aim of W. H. Johnson, county superintendent of schools in 1900, was to consolidate the Union Point, Hickman Mills, Holmes Park, and Rockford grade schools into one school district. After making studies and a research trip to Ohio, Mr. Johnson, T. T. Moore, and O. V. Slaughter appeared before the Missouri state legislature with suggestions for how several small schools could be joined to form one district. In 1901 the state legislature passed the bill and Consolidated School District Number 1 was created soon after.

On land donated by Jacob Palmer, in 1902 the first high school was erected and named after John Ruskin, an English author. This Ruskin High School was a one room school in which students were directed by the teacher Tilden Young. Within the next six years another room, three teachers, and a four year program had been established.



Neale Sievers and former President Truman view plans for Ruskin High School.

C. A. Burke

History Through

Truman Elementary School, built in 1955, was named after former President Harry S. Truman, member of the school board in Consolidated School District No. 1 during 1916. C. A. Burke, superintendent of schools for twenty years, received the honor of having the first large elementary school to be constructed in our district named after him. Johnson Elementary School, built in 1957, was named after W. H. Johnson, the person responsible for the establishment of Consolidated District No. 1.

McElroy, President of the Board; Jane Leavens, Secretary to the Board; Wendell A. Johaningsmier, Vice-President of the Board; Bill T. Wall; Paul Province, Treasurer of the Board.

Heading The March

The Board of Education sets up general policies, rules for school organizations and personnel, use of school buildings, grounds, equipment, policies relating to pupils, and special services. A group of competent men, willing and able to do their work effectively, presides over Consolidated School District No. 1.

Having been in existence since 1902, the Board is elected the first Tuesday in April. Two directors are elected each year.

Plans have included the newly constructed Ingle Elementary School, and for the near future Smith-Hale Junior High School and a new senior high. Keeping pace with district growth is a never ending process.

DIST. NO. 1

NORTH CENTRAL ACCREDITED

Located on the north west corner of the school grounds, the administrative offices are convenient to the community.

Blaine E. Steck, principal of Ruskin High School for eleven years, is one of the busiest people in our school. Dividing his time among various duties throughout the day, Mr. Steck maintains board policy and confers with the community, staff, and students. From his first day at Ruskin, each student benefits from Mr. Steck's knowledge, ability, and understanding. Endeavor directed toward the improvement of the curriculum, facilities, and school policies are only a part of his never ending quest.

A ready smile and a minute of his time are things Mr. Steck is always willing to give.

Toward District Goals

When not giving valuable aid to Mr. Steck, Douglas M. Lawrence, vice-principal, is busy in many other activities which concern Ruskin High School. Under the direction of Mr. Lawrence, the organizations of Ruskin function smoothly and effectively. Varied duties performed daily by Mr. Lawrence render valuable service to Ruskinites.

Mr. Lawrence ....may I help you with anything this morning?

Just a minute....we need four copies for the meeting.

Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Steck work together scheduling school activities.

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. L. Miller check the card catalog for new books.

Miss Abarr and Mrs. C. Miller look up an article in a magazine.

Duties

Miss Abarr, Mrs. L. Miller, and Mrs. C. Miller keep the books in order and available for information and pleasure. Mrs. Perkins, a new librarian, stays on duty to keep the library open until 6:00 P.M. Student librarians are on duty each hour during the school day.

Mrs. Gowler, Mrs. Gfeller, and Mrs. Hicken, the office secretaries, perform a wide variety of duties in a smooth, efficient manner. The student helpers assist the secretaries by collecting absentee slips and distributing messages.

Mrs. Gfeller checks the absentee lists.

Mrs. Gowler and Mrs. Hicken "man" the office nerve center.

The psychology classes worked with mazes and puzzles, using them to understand the mental, physical and emotional ability of individuals. Massed and distributive methods of study gave further insight to psychology students.

Working with 54 students, Miss Kennedy taught the judicial, executive, and legislative branches of the government. A model United Nations project was set up in American Government classes. Each student was a delegate from a communist, non-communist or neutral nation. Red China's admission to the United Nations was the topic for discussion.

Guest speakers, movies and panel discussions gave students in Family Relations additional knowledge on family life. Under the direction of Mr. Mallory, Mr. Burkhart, and Mr. Partridge, students strived to solve many of the problems encountered in dating and married life, ranging from budgeting a wedding to overcoming the grief for a lost loved-one.

LEON MALLORY; American History, Family Relations, Sociology, Economics; B.S. in Education, University of Kansas

The 1966-67 school year marked the completion of a five-year social science program initiated in the district's junior high schools four years ago. At that time, Civics became a seventh grade course, and each consecutive year the following changes were made: the period of American History up to 1860 was taught in the eighth grade; and World History was divided into two courses to be taught on the ninth and tenth grade levels.

Ruskin's Junior Class, which was the first class in the program, completed its last phase with the study of a new textbook, Rise of the American Nation, in their American History classes. This program was designed to give the students more depth and understanding of world problems, as well as to prepare them for college.

Driver's Education also took on a new look this year. Because of the increased enrollment of forty more students, it was necessary to add another car to the four already being used in the driving classes.

Classroom study consisted of study of the engine, Missouri driving laws, and safe driving measures.

English not only pertains to literature, spelling, and grammar, but also to a better understanding of people, places, and opinions. The study of the lives of great authors aids in better understanding of their poems and stories. Through studying novels, short stories, writing themes and term papers, the students gained more and better skills in grammar and composition.

The ability to express one's thoughts and opinions in an effective manner is the key to success in all fields. With this purpose in mind, the English department strived to provide an understanding of the basic rules and techniques involved in language arts.

English is a required course for all sophomores and juniors at Ruskin. Conducted as a college-prep course, English IV is a popular subject among seniors, even though it is not a required class.

Common Denominator

Language is the cornerstone of man's communication. English I,II, and III teach oral and written expression, thus aiding the students in obtaining those goals which represent logical, proper, and correct thinking, speaking, listening, and writing, as well as an appreciation of good literature.

The sophomore course lays the foundation for achieving these goals. The junior course builds upon this foundation. English IV ties together the threads of preceding English training. These courses prepare the students for college or the business world with a well-rounded study of the English language.

Students became frequent visitors of the library, one of the most popular areas in school. They obtained further knowledge as they traveled from gerunds and infinitives into the world of poetry.

Grease Paint And Diction

The Speech Arts Department of Ruskin has grown from two classes of speech to an active thirteen sections of various speech activities. The program has grown from one tournament a year into a present eighteen tournament schedule.

Students are trained in the development of individual personality traits that are effective in everyday life. Students have the opportunity to develop talents and skills in various communicative arts related to speech education. Training in speech affects a student regardless of what occupation or school he may attend in the future.

Throughout the year, guest speakers took part in the student training program in Speech Arts. Skills in research were used that enlightened subject areas for students. This in turn gave the student "something worthwhile to say" when he performed before his class.

Home economics and shop are popular subjects with the special education classes.

Functional shop and home economics were offered in the Special Education classes. Mr. Beers taught the boys to refinish and antique old furniture. Students also worked with a unit on banking. Safe-driving procedures were discussed. Students learned to figure gross and net incomes and deductions.

Mrs. Wille was quoted as saying, "We are one of the few who offer functional activities for these students and we have one of the best programs in the metropolitan area." The girls developed a background in budget responsibilities needed by a wife and mother.

On-the-job training was provided for students. Jobs were secured with Internal Revenue Service, Hallmark Cards, Richards Gebaur Air Force Base and various hospitals. The high demand for students with this training made it difficult to fill all requests for trained personnel.

Starting this year, there were two Special Education teachers. Mr. Beers completed his fourth year here, while Mrs. Wille was a new addition to the teaching staff at Ruskin.

SCHOOL LIFE

When over one hundred students were crowded into the original Ruskin, it became evident a new high school was needed. After two years and four bond elections the funds were furnished in 1930 to erect another Ruskin at the corner of Blue Ridge and 110th street. Housing ten regular classrooms, this Ruskin had an annex added in 1950 to provide space for industrial arts, music, and a cafeteria.

Starting in 1952, a great influx of people to Hickman Mills quickly filled the schools to overflowing. Another Ruskin High was built in 1955 to the east of the building erected in 1930. It contained eighteen regular classrooms, a cafeteria, shop, music room, and library, while the 1930 Ruskin was then used for junior high students.

Carmen Martinez

This year Ruskin welcomed its sixth foreign exchange student, Carmen Martinez, from sunny Spain. Her home is in Madrid, the bustling capital city. Carmen left behind her parents, two brothers, Alejandro and Miguel-Angel, and two sisters, Isabel and Charo. During her year at Ruskin, Carmen lived with Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Stone and their daughters, Barbara and Dayna.

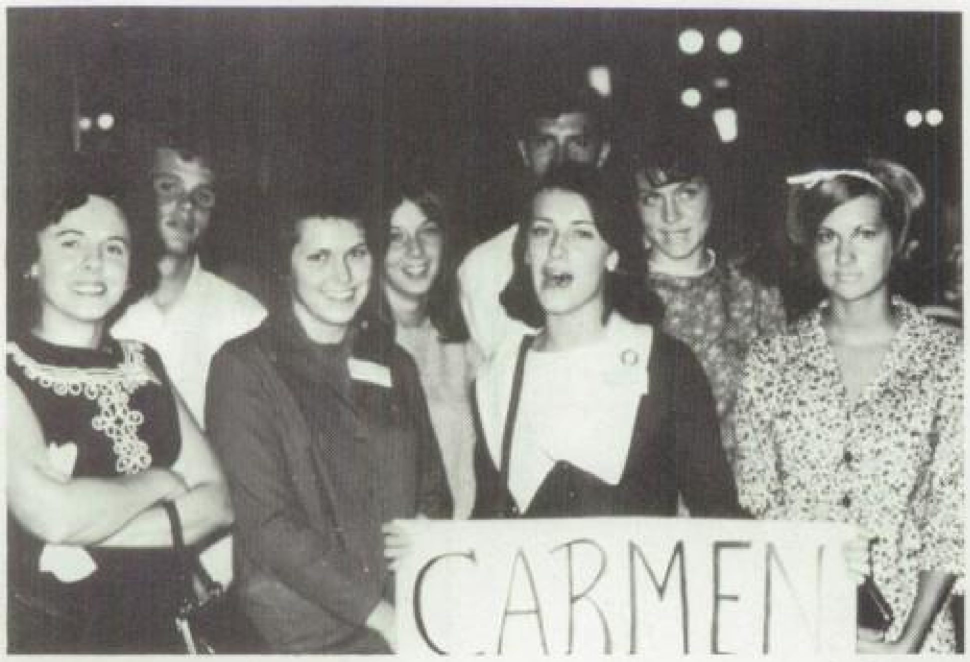
Carmen divided her time among many school activities. She was an active participant in Pep Club, R.G.A.A., Spanish Club, and the Student Council. In the annual Powder Puff Football Game, Carmen was a valuable asset to her teammates.

Among her varied interests, she particularly enjoys interior decorating, as well as listening to classical music.

When Carmen returns home, her ambition for the future is to enter a career in the medical profession.

Carmen's warmth and vivacious personality has endeared her to all who knew her. Her presence at Ruskin has made this year more rewarding for all who came in contact with this pretty señorita.

Cultures Combine In



The Stone family, with the help of many Student Council members, provided a hearty "Ruskin Welcome" for Carmen when she arrived in Kansas City. Pictured are: Mrs. Stone, Bill Molenhour, Dayna Stone, Kathy Boatwright, Bob Rakoski, Barbara Stone, Tammy Hombs, and Cindy Correll.

An understanding between sisters grew as time passed quickly, and Barbara and Carmen shared a year of memorable experiences.

At Ward Parkway's Annual Christmas Festival, Carmen was among the area foreign exchange students who created individual displays depicting Christmas in their homelands.

Meaningful Relationship

Carmen, a member of the Varsity Pep Club, faithfully attended every game, cheering the Eagles onward to victory.

Shortly after her arrival in Kansas City, Carmen took time out to relax with her American family.

Council Members

Members and sponsors of the student council await for Bob Rakoski to introduce them to the Ruskin student body, and at the same time induct them into the council.

Purchasing a plaque for the names of former students from Ruskin who have been killed in Viet Nam, was one of the many projects that the student council undertook this past year.

Under the guidance of Mr. Steck, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Amick, Mr. Hoskins, and Mrs. Langford, the council also purchased new scoreboard accessories, planted more shrubs and trees around the school, sponsored the annual Snow-Ball Dance, and also sponsored the magazine drive. This past year the sales for the drive totaled well over $9,000, which was higher than any other drive in the past.

Mrs. Langford stated, "This past year the council has tried to make Ruskin the best school in the nation, by participating in district and state convention workshops, Missouri Association of Student Councils, and the National Council of Student Councils."

After each student council meeting, the members of the council dispursed to the individual classrooms, where they gave a report of what the council decided upon. This year, during the council meetings, the members broke into individual groups where they discussed a variety of different things.

Mr. Steck and Mr. Lawrence discuss Student Council affairs, before presenting them to the members of the council.

Queen Linda

A myriad of couples danced to the beat of heavenly music.

The night of Saturday, December 17, was a lovely evening for the 300 students who attended the annual Snowball Dance, sponsored by the Student Council. The Council chose "Angels" for their theme. The cafeteria was beautifully decorated in colors of pink and silver. Refreshments of cake, cookies, and punch were served as Chuck Inzerillo and his orchestra provided music from 8 to 11 p.m. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Linda Hall, senior, who reigned over the 1966 Snowball Dance.

For the third year the Mirage staff presents twelve of Ruskin's most outstanding seniors. A faculty committee nominated seniors for Who's Who, then they selected six boys and six girls from these names. Having chosen these twelve people, the committee picked a couple for each specific trait, with the exception of Scholarship which was based strictly on class rank. Although Who's Who selections were based on such qualities as scholarship, citizenship, sportsmanship, courtesy, and versatility, the most important asset considered was the student's attitude toward faculty, fellow students, school, and the community as a whole.

Honors Extended By National Society

The Ruskin Chapter of the National Honor Society is an organization for outstanding students who maintain an S average in all subjects. Sophomores who have acceptable grades are allowed to apply for membership. If, after screening by the faculty, the student is admitted, he is on probation until the second quarter of his junior year. Members of the National Honor Society are expected to maintain the superior average throughout their high school career.

In February, the members traveled by bus to St. Louis to attend the State National Honor Society meeting.

During the week before Christmas holidays, the National Honor Society sponsored a Coke Party for the Ruskin graduates who are now college freshmen. This party gave those seniors planning to attend college a chance to find out what it is really like.

A buffet dinner was given in honor of all National Honor Society members after the annual new member induction ceremonies which were held in March.

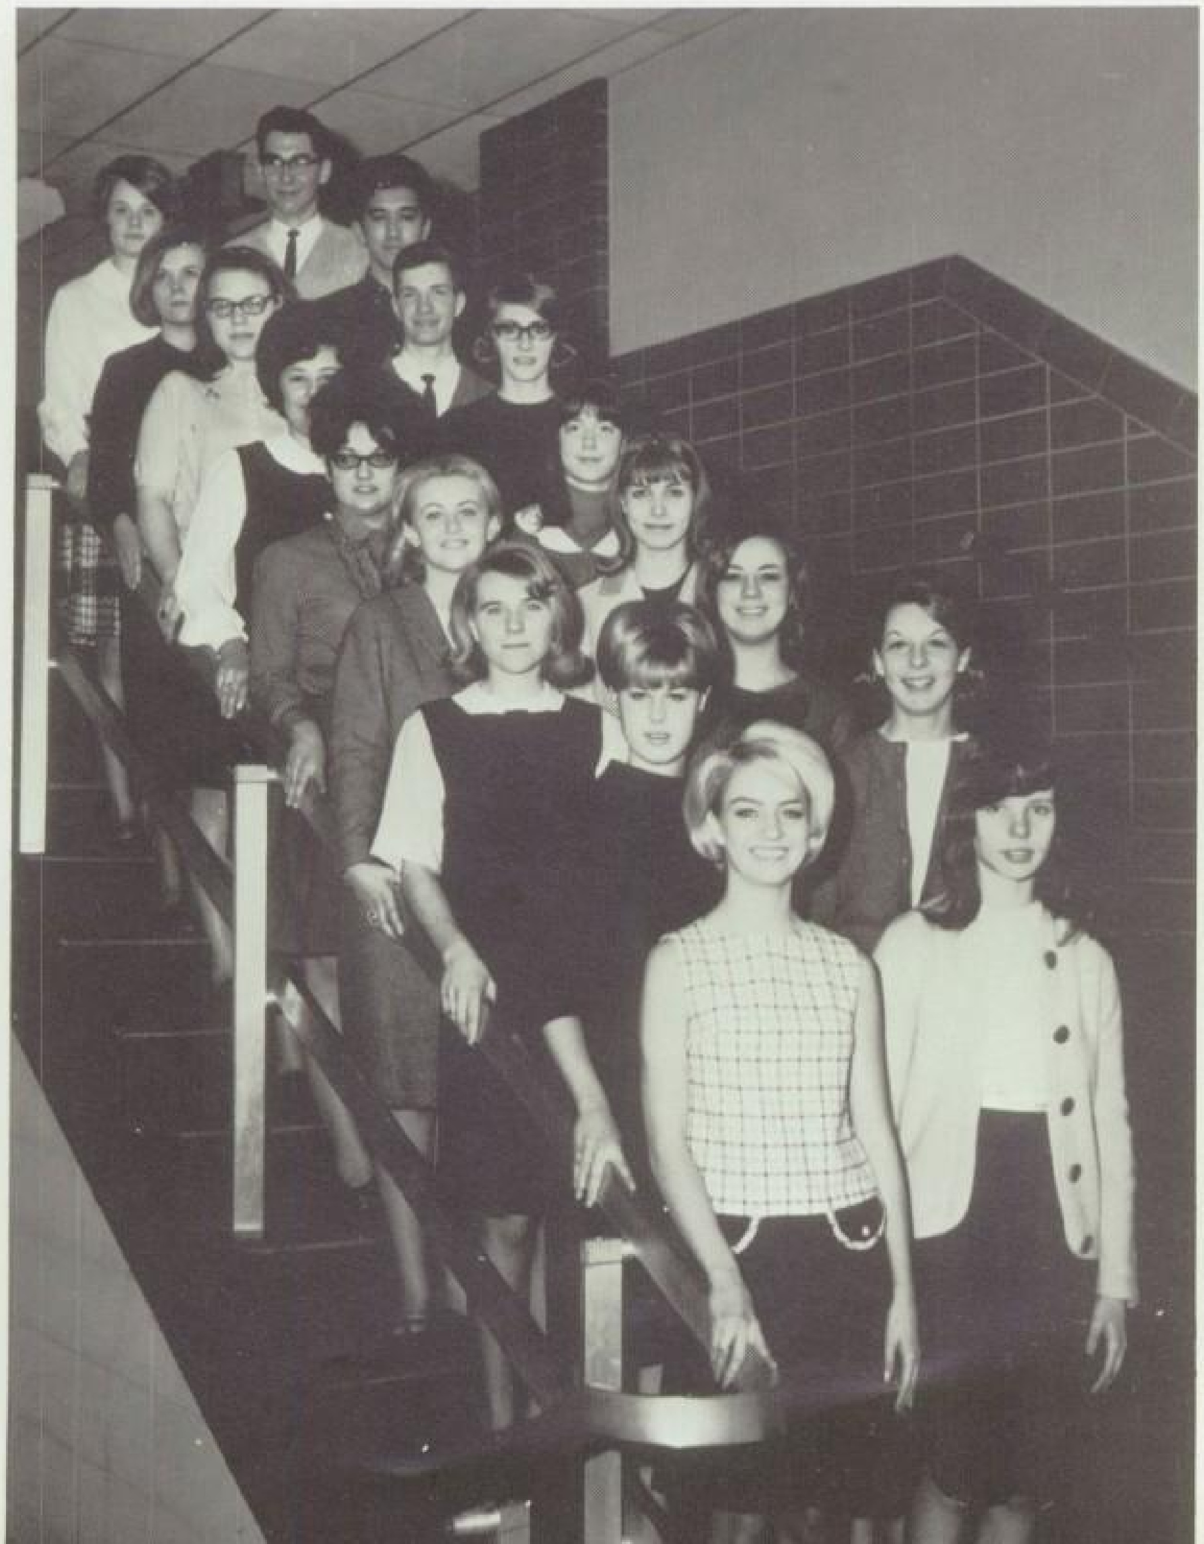
Journalists Earn Honors



Quill and Scroll, an organization for outstanding journalist students, was formed at Ruskin in 1957.

Besides doing outstanding journalistic work, a student must be in the upper tenth of the senior class, have an "S" average, and be recommended by either Mr. Wrisinger or Mrs. Skinner.

Lunching at the Holiday Inn in Topeka, Kansas, Mirage staff members rest before touring a second American Yearbook plant.

Daily

Startled by the flashbulb, Julie Fish momentarily abandons picture identification.

Mary Jo Janner and Karen Haynes write receipts for yearbook payments.

During the 1966-67 school year Publications was made a full credit course which met every day. Practical application of journalism was learned during first semester by creating the Mirage. The latter part of the year emphasized the finer points of journalism and preparation for the following year's Mirage.

Fall and spring workshops, attended by the majority of the class, initiated new members to page layout and general yearbook planning. A visit to the American Yearbook Company plant in Topeka, Kansas, in April, 1966, helped the staff realize how the separate pages are combined to make a finished yearbook.

Creative Writing isn't all work. Alex Rojas, Barbara Logan, David Anschutz, and Nancy Shissler demonstrate the art of winning at Categories.

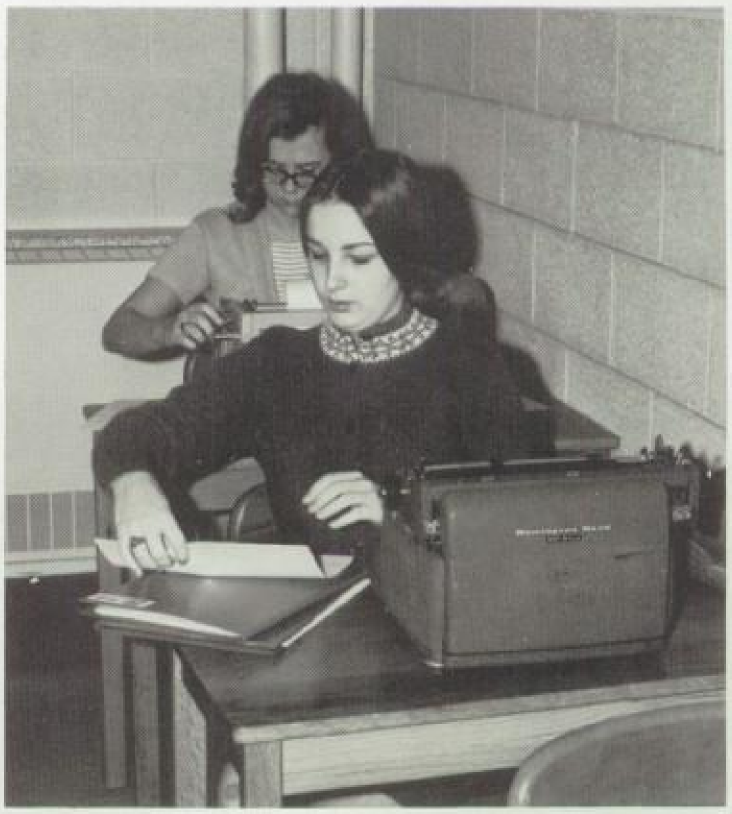
Nineteen seniors of Ruskin High made up the ninth Creative Writing class. Advanced English, poetry, and journalism made this class anything but dull. Under Mr. Wrisinger's direction, the students attempted to improve their skills in the above areas as well as in the composition and distribution of our school paper, the Hi-Light.

The Hi-Light, which can be classified as the major class project, takes many hours and a lot of writing to get it in shape for printing. Once assignments are made the seniors quickly arrange interviews, take pictures, and write rough drafts. After having been approved or rejected and rewritten, the paper goes to the printer. When returned it is distributed to each first-hour class.

The paper is only part of the class curriculum. Different newspaper styles are studied. Poems, short stories, and Japanese Haikus are read and the students attempt their own. Several term papers were written in preparation for college.

Writers Learn

Creative Writing Class spent the day before Christmas playing games. After winning two previous games, the team of Susan Swift, Mike McMillan, Suzanne Phares, Sharon Rose, Mike Rich, Patti Allbrook, and Janet Fimple took second place losing only to the first place winners, the Anschutz team.



Typing and retyping material for the newspaper until it is perfect is a long and tedious process. Debbie Boden and Patti Allbrook prove this.

Tricks Of The Trade

Approximately every three weeks, the students work in force to interview, take pictures, write and rewrite copy for the Hi-Light. After the articles are approved the printer molds the finished work. Writing copy and organizing the paper takes many hours outside the classroom and causes much frustration. However, the finished paper more than compensates the hours of work.

Individual selections by the students were entered in Missouri's Youth Writes, Scholastic Magazine, and several Hi-Lights were graded by the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association.

For the past four years, Missouri Interscholastic Press rated the Hi-Light "Special Excellent" or "Excellent." It also received "I" ratings in newswriting for the past six years.

Thirty-two years ago, the first Hi-Light was distributed to the student body. At that time, it was only a small mimeographed newspaper. The paper was written by the journalism class and printed by the Business Department. Twenty-three years later, it was first sent to a professional printer. This has been continued through the last nine years.

The Esthetics Club is designed to promote appreciation and knowledge of art. Sketch trips, tours, art fairs, and guest speakers gave students inspiration for perfection in their artistic work.

On field trips club members observed the passage of a book from the time it was selected by the librarian until it reached the shelf.

New vistas are now open in library work. Occupations such as corporation, scientific, medical, and research librarian are now available to students interested in this area of work. Library work can provide an interesting and stimulating vocation.

Thespians Aquire Stage Skill

The Drama Club, under the supervision of Miss Jean Scott, is devoted to the improvement and advancement of the Dramatic Arts. This is proven throughout the year by sponsorship of bake sales, rummage sales, a Roman feast, and formal initiation. The community is reached through the annual Children's Theatre, elementary school plays, junior high school programs, and Drama Night. Their projects supplied the Little Theatre with equipment that was essential. The Drama Club strives to promote interest and participation in school productions and in other dramatic events. Dramatic ability is gained by taking part in various speech activities for which points are given.

Ma Peterson grudgingly accepts money from her "Sonny Boy" so she can take a taxi home.

Under the supervision of Miss Jean Scott and Mr. Fred Tarry, the drama and music departments combined efforts to produce Ruskin's fifth annual all-school musical, "Bye-Bye Birdie." Mr. Robert Scott provided the background music with his twenty-piece pit band. Coupled with singers from the choir they produced such pleasurable melodies as; "We Love You, Conrad", "One Boy", and "Lot of Livin' To Do".

The cast and crews, consisting of over one hundred people, worked late many nights in preparation. The crews were supervised by committee chairmen chosen from Miss Scott's Dramatics II class. An imaginative dance routine arranged through the efforts of Joanne Cutera was well performed by a well-rehearsed team of dancers.

Contributing to the success of the play were the Shriner's dance, Birdie's songs, and a telephone scene. All helped earn the total applause of an appreciative audience. True Ruskin spirit was displayed on the show's closing night when the cast and crew sang our school song in unison. All in all, the play was generally well received as proven by the overwhelming attendance of the audience both Friday and Saturday nights.

Mr. Alley, the new sponsor of the Distributive Education Club of America, led his students in advertising, merchandising, and business administration courses. An increased enrollment was evident and made Mr. Alley's job an even greater challenge. Each Wednesday the club held meetings and discussed different business techniques and ways to raise money. Candy sales and a Spook dance featuring Sir Reggie and the Rouges brought in the most money. The dance held October 25 was deemed a success by everyone present. Students learned new ways of advertising layout and public speaking that will help in future jobs. Annual meetings held in Columbia stress the progress of other D.E.C.A. classes and a greater understanding of business principles is found. Actual, on-the-job experience, was gained by seniors during sixth hour classes.

Sponsored for three years by Mr. Winfiel, the Math Club affiliated with the Junior Engineering Technical Society this year. The JETS provide speakers, films, and written information for the local chapters.

Members presented a talk on Topology at their first meeting of the year. Commonly known as "Rubber Sheet Geometry", Topology deals with lines, points, puzzles, tricks, and logic. An example of a Topological trick is the vest removing stunt. At this meeting the first Vest Removing Contest of Ruskin was held. In this race students tried taking off their vests without removing their coats or sweaters.

Socios Explore Traditions

El Circulo Espanol helps to promote interest in the language, people, customs, and general history of the Spanish-speaking countries. To achieve this, monthly meetings were held and members could take the annual trip to a Spanish restaurant. Carmen Martinez, Ruskin's foreign exchange student, was an enthusiastic member.

Holiday celebrations were highlights, especially as Christmas neared. The celebration was complete with Spanish Christmas carols, games, and refreshments. According to tradition, a pinata was broken by a club member. The pinata represented King Caspar who was one of the Three Wise Men that visited the infant Jesus.

Members scramble to retrieve candies from the spilled contents of the pinata.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lila Hensley, various activities were planned the entire year to further members' knowledge of the French culture and language. At the monthly meetings, members enjoyed programs of French games, slides of France, and plays presented by the third- and fourth-year French students.

Highlighting the field trips, the club attended Moliere's play, "Les Femmes Savantes," featuring a troupe of French actors direct from La Comedie Francaise.

Aspiring Teachers Join F.T.A.

Mr. Lawrence, honored guest, speaks on the teaching profession.

The Ruskin Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Casper, was founded in 1962.

Each member works to gain 1000 points to earn a service pin. They grade papers, take roll, and cut stencils. For each task they do for a teacher, a certain number of points are earned.

Student Teaching Day was the big event of the year. The members went to different schools in the area and taught a class for one day.

F.T.A. students held a fruit cake sale. Proceeds from this drive were used for Christmas presents at the Home for the Aged and for a senior scholarship. An outstanding senior was awarded a $100 scholarship.

To qualify for membership in the Future Homemakers of America, a girl must have had a home economics course in either Junior or Senior High School.

New members were admitted on Wednesday, October 19. Their attire for initiation was based on some vegetable. The initiates were dressed as foods from head to foot. At the meeting they had to clutch a newspaper between their teeth, blow a feather across the room and back. They were told a story using certain foods for props.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Kizer the Future Homemaker Association has been active. They continued the old tradition of giving a scholarship to the outstanding senior.

On College Night, members of the Future Homemakers of America maintained a lounge for the use and benefit of the representatives from the various colleges. Coffee and donuts were served in the lounge as an added attraction.

Just a little bit further, a little bit further — got it!

Future Medics Learn Techniques

Barbara Logan says, "Open wide," as Bob Godfrey asks "What's this!"

Future medics turned cooks during the Christmas season by using the home economics kitchen to bake dozens of cup cakes for their annual bake sales. The money received from the bake sales was used to help the family that was adopted for Christmas. The student body participated in this project by bringing canned food, which was placed in boxes beneath a tree in the front lobby.

Ruskin's Medical Careers Club learned many aspects of medicine from guest speakers. Four student nurses from St. Lukes Hospital discussed the curriculum at the October meeting. Three of the nurses were graduates of Ruskin: Sandy McGrath, 66; Ellen Anderson, 66; Donna Compton, 64.

Dr. R. W. Ochs talked about Pathology at the November meeting. Radiology was presented by Dr. Herbert Verden during December. A representative from Richards Gebaur Air Force Base spoke on Aero Space Medicine at the January meeting. A movie, "Project Hope" was shown at the February meeting. In March the club went to the Kansas University Medical Center to tour the Rehabilitation Department.

A prerequisite for membership in the R-Club is to have lettered in one or more sports. Consequently, its members participate in various athletic endeavors such as tennis, football, basketball, track, golf, and wrestling.

As the year progressed the R-Club became involved in different activities. Members co-operated with the faculty in patrolling the lunch room during each shift. They sponsored a cross-country meet to raise funds to boost the club's treasury.

A new feature added to the R-Club this year was its "male pep club." The "male pep club" attended each basketball game in a group to support the Eagles. Besides participating in these areas, the R-Club is involved in many non-affiliated athletic activities.

R.G.A.A. Encourages Team Work

R.G.A.A., Ruskin's all-girl athletic club, provides an opportunity for girls to have fun while they develop fellowship and sportsmanship.

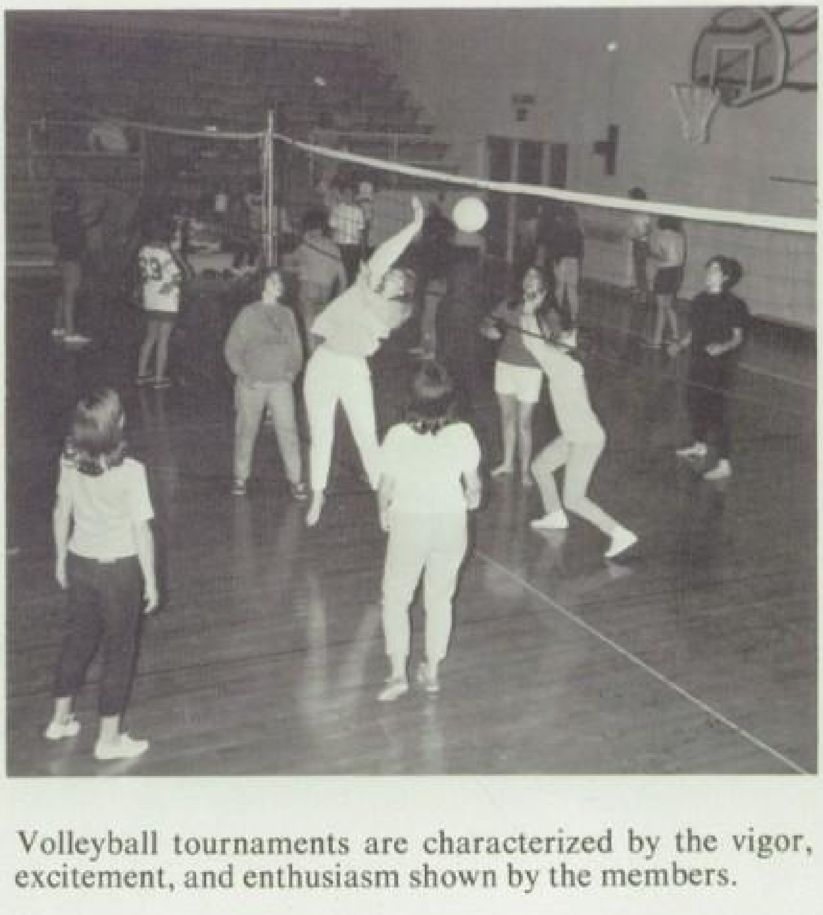
Participating in sports such as volleyball, badminton, bowling, and bombardment, these girls met every Tuesday after school with their sponsors, Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Tipton.

A preliminary initiation which included wearing strange clothing combinations was required by each girl seeking membership.

An annual Christmas Party and Sweetheart Dance, open to members only, was sponsored by the R.G.A.A. Senior members participated in the annual Powder Puff football game, against the Pep Club.

Members who attended all meetings, after-school games, and helped to promote the club in various ways were rewarded with a 50 or 100 point pin.

This organization not only strengthens sportsmanship, but provides activities outside the classroom.



Volleyball tournaments are characterized by the vigor, excitement, and enthusiasm shown by the members.

Taking tickets is a big job. Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Tipton try to keep up with the incoming crowd.

"Dukes" And Decorations

The coronation of Queen Carol by Mr. Lawrence, assistant principal, was the highlight of the evening.

February 18, the cafeteria was all aglow for the annual Sweetheart Dance, as students danced and enjoyed the music of the "Dukes." Pink, red, and white hearts set the stage for the theme, "Hearts in Profusion."

This event is traditionally sponsored by the Ruskin Girls' Athletic Association, the club and their escorts.

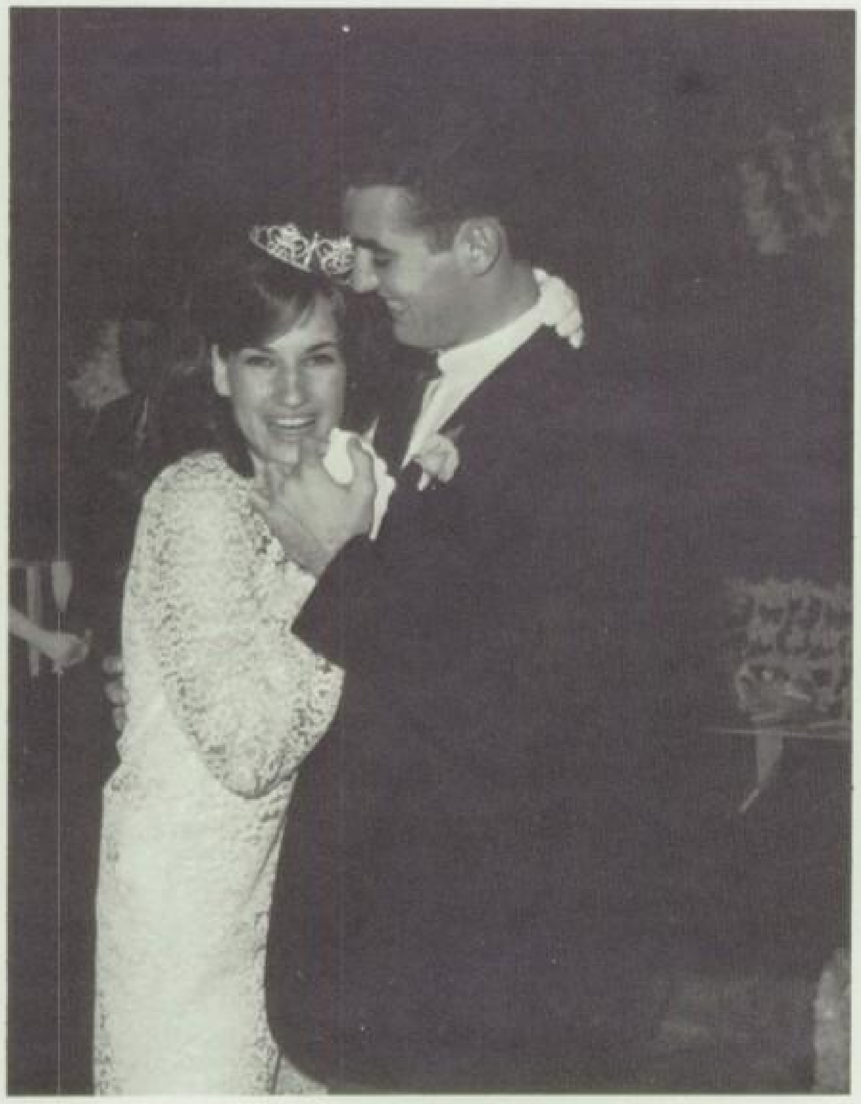
Bruce Stocker and Jill Endler prefer to sit this one out.

The tempo provided seemed to lure many dancers out on the floor.

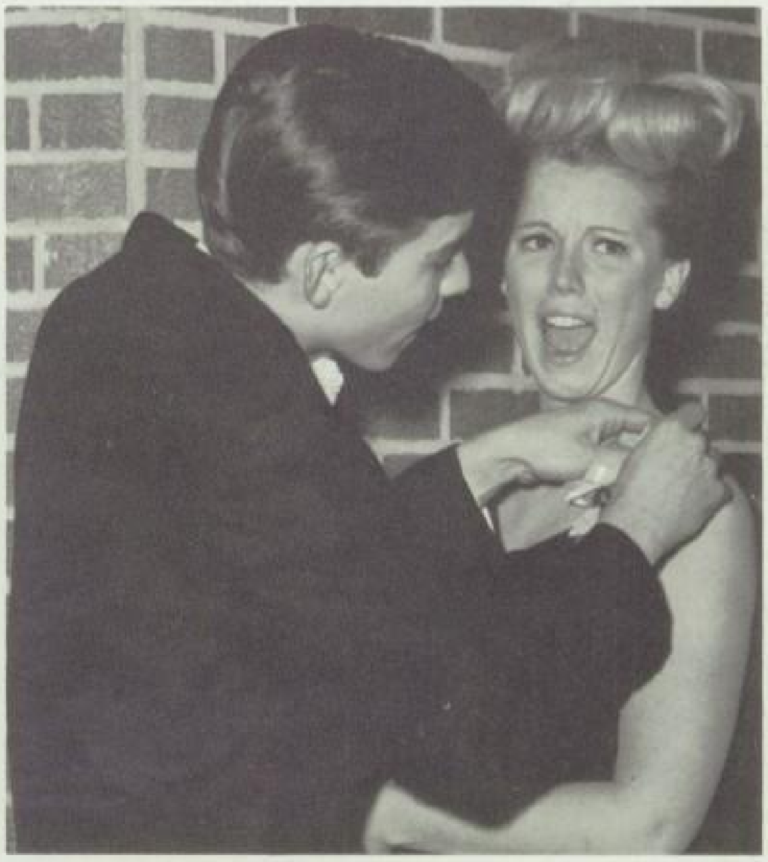
Refreshments are important, too. Jack Morris, Judy Mayer, and Janet Fimple indulge in refreshments served by Shirley Barber.

Complement Sweethearts

Queen Carol and Eddie Evans lead the other couples in the first dance after the crowning.



Petitions circulated by the girls at the February 14 meeting selected the candidates for queen. These were announced at the dance. The couples then voted, and the senior girl receiving the most votes reigned with her court for the remainder of the evening.



"Ouch! Be careful that's me!" Karla Futvoye exclaims to her date.

Eager students clamor around the competition money jars in the front hall.

Enthusiasm, pep, and spirit are adjectives which describe Ruskin's pep club. This organization of over 300 girls lends its support to the eagle team during all phases of the athletic season. With vigor and vitality, the pep club is loyal in defeat as well as victory.

Involving itself in the sponsorship of various activities, the pep club is an intrinsic part of Ruskin school life.

For the second consecutive year, senior members of the pep club participated in the Powder Puff football game. They downed the opposition, senior members of R.G.A.A., by a score of 7-6. Pep club also participated in Homecoming activities and sponsored a Ruskin-Lee's Summit coke party.

The club initiated a new money-making project this year. Members sold "spirit ribbons" to Ruskin supporters to gain needed funds.

Club members were also responsible for the programs and skits presented in pep assemblies.

And Contagious Spirit

The pep club team dubiously inspects their powder puff football equipment.

During the last frantic moments of a football game, pep club member's varied expressions mirror the excitement on the field. Their eyes follow every play and mouths open wide with cries of victory.

The fierce pep club team and their coaches sneer menacingly at the opposition.

Cora

Representatives of sportsmanship, optimism, and loyalty, these cheerleaders led support for the Eagles as they soared high in conference standings. During the summer, the varsity squad traveled to the University of Mississippi to participate in the annual cheerleading clinic. They brought home five blue ribbons, the pep stick, and the overall first place trophy. The B-Team Cheerleaders did very well in earning second place from the clinic at Missouri Valley College.

Cheerleaders are chosen on the point system including a check list of acrobatic abilities, cheering alone and in a group, and general personality and scholastic standing. This is the fourth year that Kathy Boatwright, Sue Calvert, and Kay Kinsey have been cheerleaders at Ruskin.

Traditional cheers such as "For the Blue" and "Two Bits" chanted out loud and clear as these girls worked hard to achieve school spirit of which all Ruskin could be proud.

Kathy Boatwright, Cora Biggerstaff, Sue Clavert, Jackie Evans, Carole Holmes, and Kay Kinsey supply spirit and pep.

Pep. . . Spirit. . . Sparkle

The thrill of being a cheerleader will long be remembered in the hearts of these girls.

The Varsity Cheerleaders enjoyed a long walk as they followed the band in the American Royal Parade.

Ruskin's Concert Choir, Chamber Choir, and the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs provide musical entertainment for the community while gaining valuable experience in performing as a group.

The Boys' Glee Club is open to all boys in school and no auditions are required.

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs perform at assemblies and concerts, and go to Music Contests each Spring.

The Chamber Choir is made up of twenty-eight selected members from the Concert Choir. This group, which specializes in choral music, performed at the Muehlebach Hotel and Phillips Hotel for the annual Missouri State Teacher's Convention held in Kansas City on November 3 and 4.

The Concert Choir, Ruskin's largest choir in nine years, sang for special programs such as the Student Council Installation Assembly and the Thanksgiving Assembly. Each year the Glee Clubs, Chamber Choir, and the Concert Choir take part in the Christmas Vesper Service and the Spring Concert. In the Spring of each year, these groups attend contests where they are rated on their singing and sightreading ability.

Blue and gold uniforms symbolized the Ruskin Golden Eagle Band. This organization had a very active marching season. Many hours were spent in perfecting precision drills. The results of these hours were presented at the home game half-time shows. One of the many excellent shows featured a Tiajuania Taxi formation to Herb Alpert. Highlights of the season were Parent's Night, Herb Alpert Night, and various contests. The highest honor received by the band was an invita-

True Ruskin spirit was shown by participation in the American Royal Parade. There are several sub-divisions of the band. The brass choir, stage band, and pep band are a few examples. Assemblies and pep rallies were aided by the pep band, while the stage band assisted in the musical. Concert practice began in the winter.

The Orchestra's source of funds came from the concerts they gave. The money was used to buy new musical equipment.

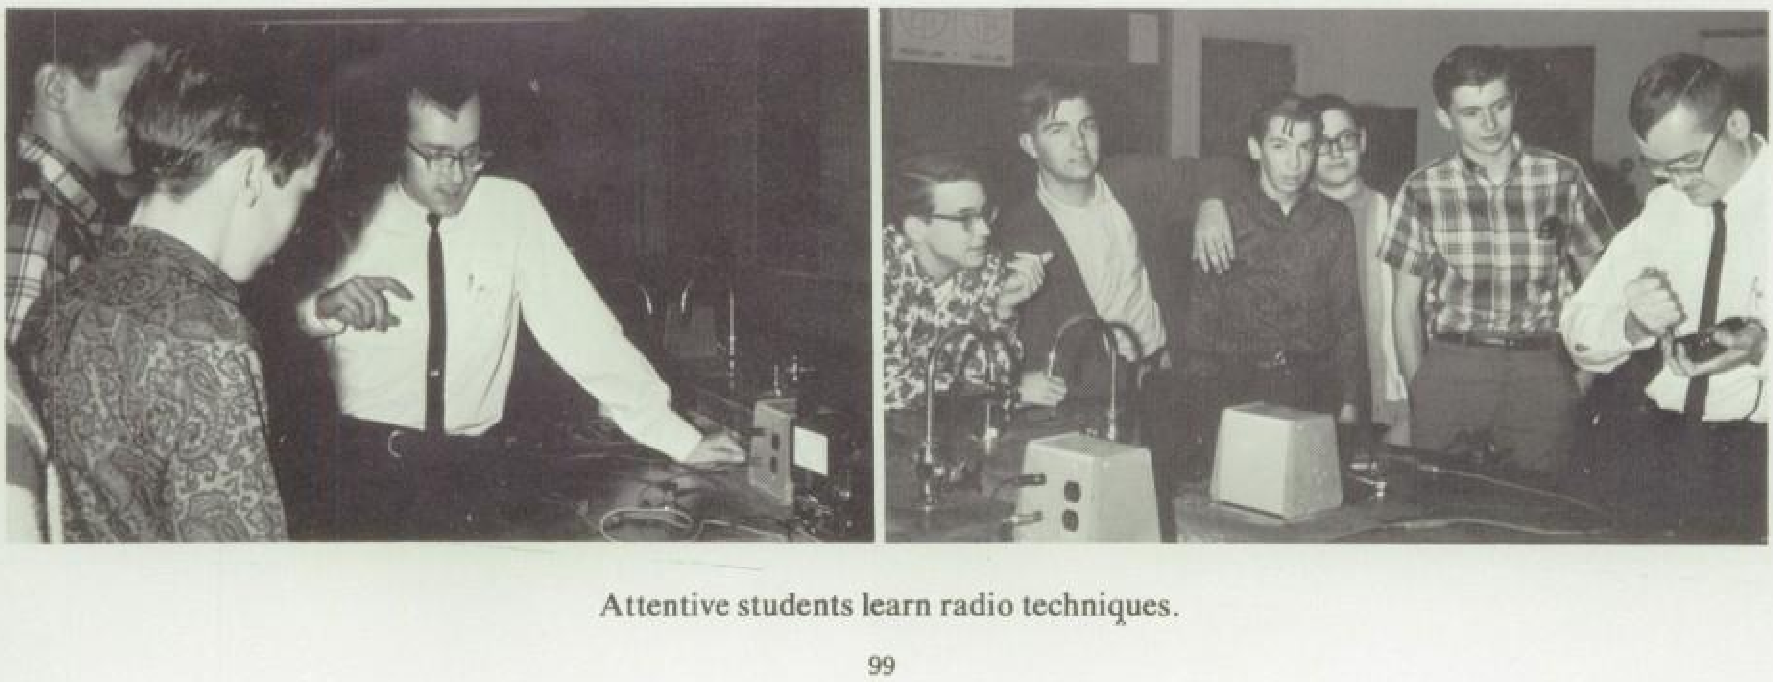
For all who love to "ham it up", the club to join in '67 was the newly formed Ruskin Amateur Radio Club. Sponsored by Mr. Buffington, the club had a membership of approximately 25 students. On Monday and Wednesday of each week the club met and many activities were held. Among the activities, were practices in Morse Code, the building of short wave equipment, and the observation of closed circuit television. Dues were collected, and the money was used for the purchase and repair of electrical equipment. Future plans include the establishment of a "ham radio" station.



Attentive students learn radio techniques.

Assemblies Mirror

Assemblies occur periodically throughout the school year providing a pleasant break from school routine.

In the Student Council assembly, newly elected members were presented to the student body. It enabled the students to get acquainted with their representatives.

Pep assemblies promote enthusiasm and zeal for athletic activities. In various pep assemblies we have met foreign exchange student, Carmen Martinez, been entertained with original skits presented by pep club members, and been introduced to the football team by coach Partridge.

Each assembly created a refreshing memory of Ruskin Spirit and left a lasting impression upon every student.

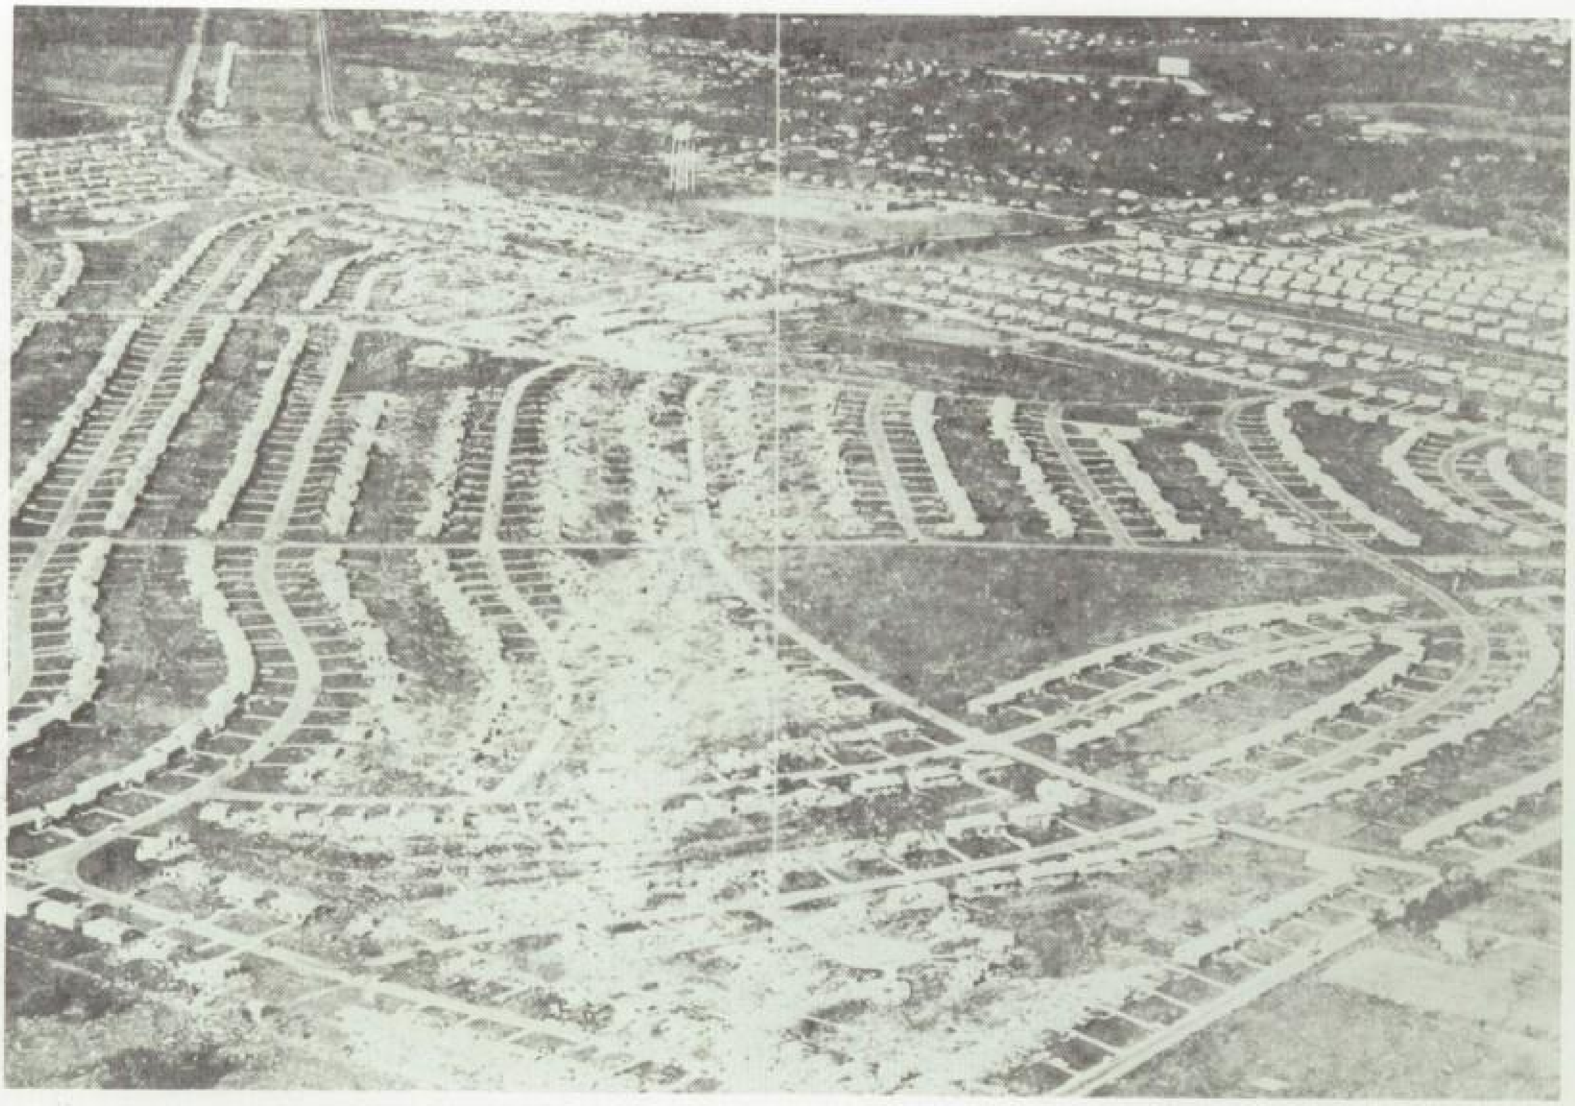
ATHLETICS

Excitement of the last days of school; yearbooks that had just come; caps and gowns to be fitted; such was life at Ruskin on May 20, 1957. That evening about 7:40 Hickman Mills met disaster—a tornado struck leaving total destruction of Ruskin High School and the surrounding area. Thirty-nine were dead and an uncountable number had been injured; Ruskin Heights was declared a national disaster area.

Following the evening of baccalaureate and the night before commencement was to be held, only four people, Blaine Steck, Mike Ervin, George Kildow, and Alta Guyll were in the building when the tornado struck. Mr. Kildow and Mrs. Guyll died in the ruins of the building. Personal belongings of both faculty and students were lost. Papers and other items were mailed back to the high school from as far as Iowa. Helping to unite the community, this event left Hickman Mills picking up the pieces and starting to build once again.



Crushing between 200 to 300 houses, the storm cut a direct path through densely populated Ruskin Heights.

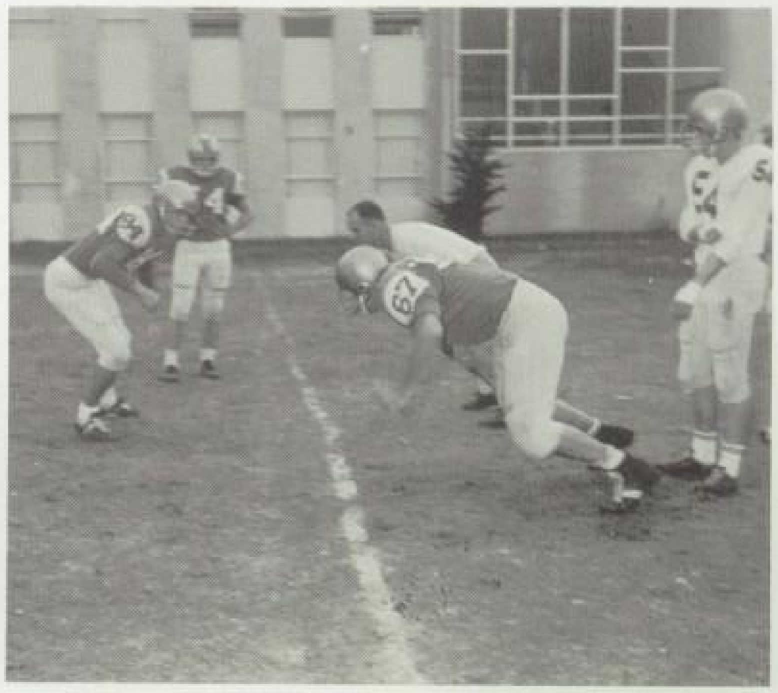
Eagles Display Vivacity As

The success of our football teams owed much to coaches Partridge, Kelley, Lewis, Noland, and Clark. The time and effort that these men spent was greatly appreciated.



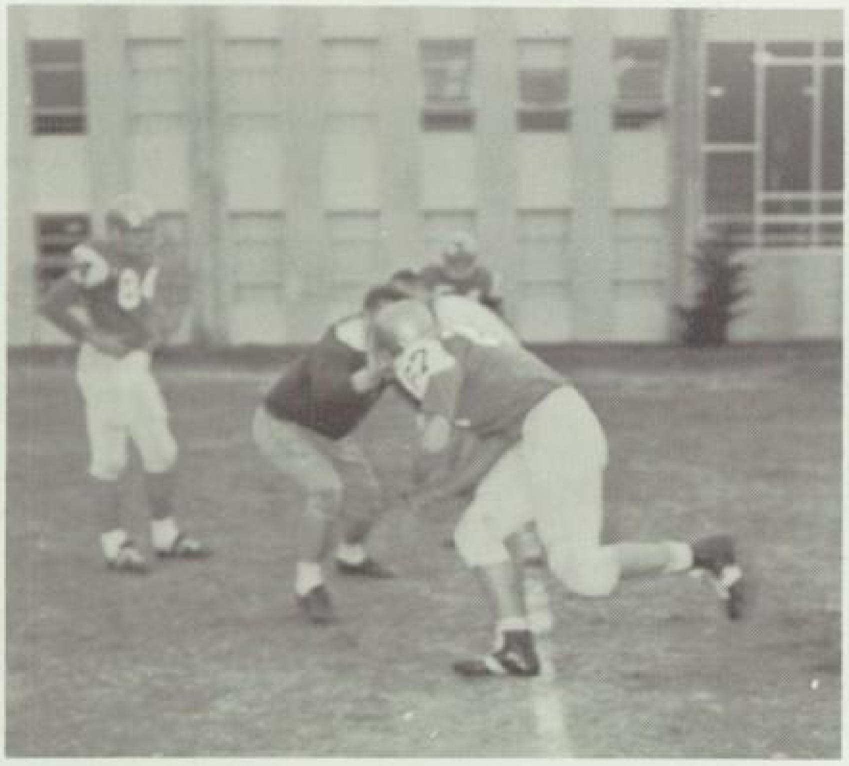
The boys drilled hard at practices in order to achieve a victory at the oncoming football games.

Ruskin's three football teams spent many hours of practicing in order to maintain their top rating. Football practice began on August 15, with two daily sessions of two hours each. During these few weeks they worked on conditioning and fundamentals. After school began, the practices were reduced to two hours each afternoon involving team scrimmages.

In order to have a successful team, it is essential for every boy to be willing to make certain sacrifices and give up many hours of free time. The challenges he meets on the field will better prepare him for the future of his choice.

Each boy looks forward to the day he will receive his varsity letter. In order to achieve this, he must participate in 50 percent of all the game quarters. The sophomore and junior varsity boys who meet these requirements receive numerals.

The hard work and effort of these boys was not in vain. When the Kansas City Star announced the final rating of the high schools, Ruskin's Varity Squad ranked seventh in the greater Kansas City area.



Belief, determination, and the will to win inspire these boys as Coach Kelley demonstrates a useful block.

They Develope Useful Tactics

The coaches and the varsity team members take time out from a practice as a nearby goal post casts a shadow over them. During this time, the coaches give instructive criticism which proves to be helpful in Friday night games.

Action Provides Excitement For Grandstand Fans

Ruskin's Varsity Squad began the '66 football season with two victories over Lee's Summit and Grandview. Ruskin unveiled a power attack centered around John Beeson and stunned Lee's Summit 46-0. Rex Perry and John Beeson led the Eagles to a come-from-behind victory over Grandview with the final score of 21-19.

Ruskin suffered a heart-breaking loss when Oak Park defeated Ruskin 20-0, but the Eagles came back with a 14-13 Suburban Eight victory over Raytown.

Ruskin's extra-point, made by Lloyd Arnsmeyer, determined the outcome of the Homecoming Game with a score of 7-6 over Truman. Randy Dawson, who rushed for 97 yards on 15 carries, took care of Ruskin's touchdown.

With the help of John Beeson and Steve Svanda, Ruskin defeated North Kansas City 19-0 by piling up 220 yards and passing 52.

Ruskin held the lead in the Rockhurst game until Rockhurst pulled itself together in the fourth quarter to edge the Eagles 19-13.

The Eagles ruined Raytown South's Homecoming with a 42-0 rout on Raytown's field. Ruskin chalked up 267 yards on the ground and 55 through the air as they scored in every quarter.

Despite the rainy weather and muddy field, Ruskin maintained a solid ground attack to dump the William Chrisman Bears 48-6.

John Beeson again lead the Eagles when they earned the title tie and became Co-Champs of the Surburban Eight Conference. A straight, solid offensive attack secured one of the biggest games in the Eagles' history. The game ended with a final score of 33-8.

October 2 through 7 marked the year's Homecoming Week at Ruskin. Spirit and enthusiasm were boosted by Tag Day, Mystery Pep Club Member Day, Class Competition Day, and Ruskin Day. Voting for queen and candidates took place on Wednesday Thursday an assembly was held announcing the junior and sophomore attendants and the three senior candidates. The girls were dressed in formal attire and the winners were led off the stage by their escorts.

Those who attended the Homecoming Dance enjoyed the music provided by Sir Reggie and the Rogues.

A presentation assembly of the candidates marked the third event of Homecoming.

A Night To Remember

Our Eagles strived hard to make that winning point, while the spirit of "66" urged them on to a victory. The game was very well attended.

Cindy was crowned queen following a parade of attendants. Each girl, accompanied by her father, was driven in cars around the field. Ruskin High Golden Eagle Band, under the direction of Mr. Scott and Mr. Perkins, presented a half-time show featuring Herb Alpert's Tijuana Brass. The final score of 7-6 was proof that Ruskin emerged victorious in the Ruskin-Truman game held under the lights.

Among Cheers

The Ruskin Eagles opened their 1966 season by winning the Grandview Invitational Basketball Tournament. In the preliminaries Ruskin defeated Belton and on the final night, beat the host school to win the first place trophy for the fourth consecutive year in this pre-season tournament.

Traveling to Liberty, the Eagles, down by one point at the half, came through to win, making the record 3-0.

Ruskin squeeked by Grandview in a seesaw battle. The victory left the Eagles undefeated after five games.

Truman clamped the first loss on Ruskin in their first conference game. It was a close game and undecided until the last eight seconds when the Patriots moved ahead to win.

The Eagles beat North Kansas City on the opening night of the Lee's Summit Tourney and were defeated the second night by Rockhurst.

The Eagles led most of the way against North Kansas City to capture their first conference victory of the season.

The William Chrisman Bears defeated the Eagles by one point in a heart-breaking game on the Eagles own court.

Raytown South got off to a fast-moving start to route the Eagles on the Cardinal court.

The Eagles defeated Oak Park in an extra session game after the Northmen rallied for a tie, sending the game into an extra three-minute play.

Ruskin edged past the Blue Jays in the first game of the Center Invitational Tournament. A second-period outburst by De La Salle carried the Titans to a victory over Ruskin. In the final night of the tournament Ruskin tried for the third place trophy but was defeated by Pembroke-Country Day in a close scoring game.

This year was a rebuilding year for the golf club. Elimination trials were held at the Belton Southview Golf Club. Eight students were selected from approximately twenty who tried out to fill the positions available on the teams.

The golf team hopes to be eligible for either the Pem Day or William Jewel tournaments.

Matches began early in April and were played mostly on Mondays and Thursdays.

Sports Arouse Interests

Coaching for the sixth consecutive year, Mr. Stathos, has prepared the tennis team for future tournaments. To do this the team reviewed basic fundamentals such as: Forearm swings, backhand swings, and lobs, which are high defensive hits over the net.

To develop muscle coordination, the lateral movement drills and the net drills are most effective. However, coach Stathos feels that the best practice is participation in an actual match.

The preceding year, Ruskin sent two finalists to the Suburban Conference Tennis Tournament, Bruce Bender and Steve Lindstrom.

The team's goal this year was to improve their skills in readiness for the Suburban Conference Tennis Tournament. With six returning lettermen, Steve Lindstrom, Bruce Bender, Keith Schultz, Tom Greving, Joe Moreland, and Mark Damon, prospects look good and the team spirit is high. To supplement them are two sophomores, Mark Wallace and John Moffet.

Recent construction of two more tennis courts has provided needed space for additional practice.

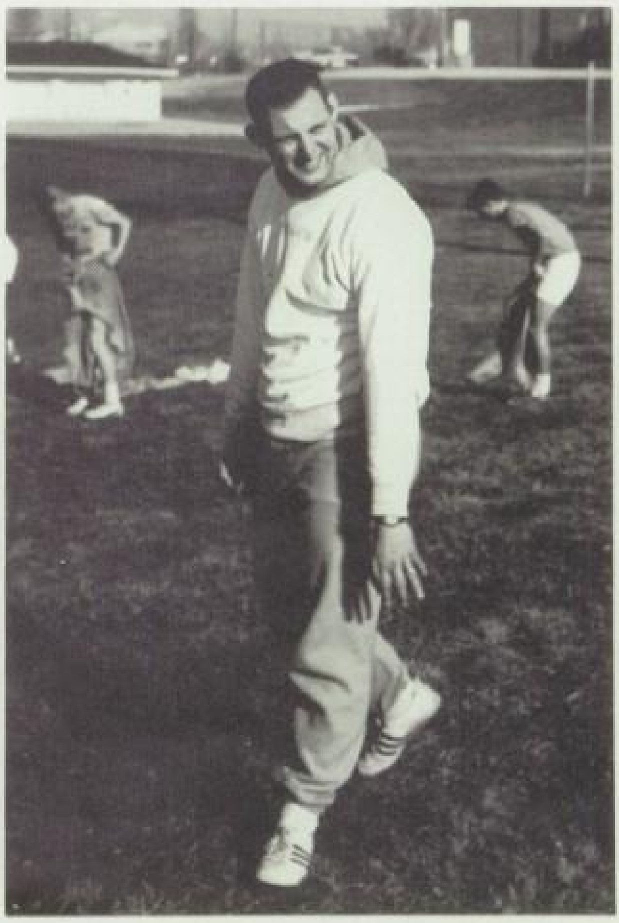
Cross-Country Runs Second

A composite record of thirteen victories and three defeats is a good indication of our cross-country team's ability. Through hard work and determination they placed second in conference and third in the district. Senior captain Greg Ingels, junior captain Larry Cunko, and sophomore captain Bob Forbes guided their team to success throughout the season. In the Ruskin Invitational Meet our team placed a strong third. Much credit is due to Coach Cochran in his first year of coaching cross-country. The experience of assistant Coach Reed was another factor in our team's victories.

Coach Cochran looks on encouragingly as his boys practice for their next meet.



Enjoying their workout, the cross-country team exercise their abilities while keeping in step with each other.

Ruskin's indoor trackmen, race through her halls in an effort to achieve perfection.

Ruskin's track and field team, under the direction of Coaches Cochran, Coyle, Reed, and Reynolds, opened their season by defeating Oak Park. The Eagles featured an improved team this year due to the return of nineteen lettermen.

Among the early season standouts were nine returning lettermen. These lettermen were: John Beeson, pole vault, low hurdles, broad jump; Bill Snorgrass, discus; Walter Carleton and Ben Taylor, high jump; Jerry Fields, mile run; Chris Langseth, 440 yard run; Bruce Stocker and Ed Wallace, pole vault; and Jim Moore, shot put.

With an ample representation of seniors and a strong reserve of underclassmen, the cindermen were in a good position to place well at the state meet in Columbia.

Ruskin organized its first track team in the spring of 1928. The 1928-29 track team participated in four dual meets: two won, one tied and one lost. Ten of the twelve trackmen were awarded letters at the close of the 1929 season. Two members of the '29 team entered the javelin throw, which is no longer used because it has been outlawed in the state of Missouri.

Wrestlers Take Ninth In State

Last year's fine corps of sophomore and junior wrestlers paid off in the shape of seven returning lettermen, more than in any past year. All of them played a large part in this season's success.

Since now is the time to look into the future as well as relive the past, it is well to note the success of our junior varsity team. Most of next year's varsity will be filled by former j.v. wrestlers. Our j.v.'s better than average record should serve as an indication of good things to come in the next year.

Wrestling is not all combat. Here our matmen warm up in preparation for their match with Lee Summit.

Score a second successful season for Ruskin wrestlers. Six years ago there was no wrestling team, and the handful of boys that initiated the sport here five years ago hardly struck terror in our opponents hearts. Last year's stalwarts accomplished a milestone in RHS wrestling history by closing the year with a winning season, ending up with a highly respectable 8-4 record in dual meet competition.

This year's team must have had its sights set on showing well in tournaments. Sporting but an average duel record this year, Ruskin indeed proved that it was a tournament team. Going to Van Horn for the first of five tournaments, the matmen displayed formidable strength by capturing seven of twelve first places and scoring 121 points, sixty more than their nearest rival. Their prowess won for them the first trophy ever awarded to a Ruskin wrestling team and is but another reminder of the sport's growth and maturity. On January seventh they took fifth in our Ruskin Tourney, a modest improvement over last year's sixth place finish. Improving as the season progressed, they then went on to make an excellent showing in the district tournament and qualify three boys for the state tourney in St. Louis, February 18.

Dear Scott,

I want you to do me a great big favor. There's this guy and I want you to tell him exactly what I think of him. He's very tall & slim and has lovely hair. He treats me with more respect than any other person I know. Though we only met a little over a month ago I feel as if I've known him all my life. He gave me the nickname "son of a gun" and I'll never forget it. I've got a little tiger to remember him by. I'll cherish it all my life. This guy & I had great times together and I hope we'll have many more. I hope he'll try to understand me even if I am kinda moody. Tell him not to pay any attention to about half of what I say. You do me this favor & I'll never forget you. I pretty sure you know who I'm talking about. Tell him I think he's great.

Lots of Love

STUDENT BODY

C.A. Burke School was the home of the Eagles during the 1957-58 school year while a new Ruskin High School was being built. Although Burke Elementary was damaged when the tornado struck, repairs had been made in time for the new school year. Students who would normally attend Burke, along with the junior high school pupils, were sent to schools throughout the district.

All subjects previously offered at Ruskin were available at Burke except for a metalworking course. Constructed during the summer, the gymnasium was used for physical education classes and the administration building was appropriated for woodworking courses. Busses chauffeured students between Burke and the high school grounds.

Enough of Ruskin was completed to provide a building the following year. Construction continued on the new high school during 1958 through 1964, while the school was in constant use.

FIRST GRADUATING CLASS,1906—FRONT ROW: Lorraine Morris, Luella Campbell, Nelle Campbell. ROW TWO: Susie Rollins; Marguerite Moore; Jessie Idol; Belle Morris; Katherine Wells.

Feminine Trends Portray

Although Ruskin does not have a team now, girl's basketball teams played other schools for many years. The 1926 and 1910 girl's basketball teams are shown below.

The styles in 1954 were different, but not the pep exhibited by the cheerleaders during a close and exciting game.

The pep squad of 1929 was composed of two cheerleaders, two representatives from each class and one representative at large.

Ruskin's Progress

Varsity cheerleaders enthusiastically cheer the football team to victory.

In Memoriam

On July 3, 1966, Paul Damon, a member of the class of 1967 passed away as a result of serious injuries suffered in an automobile accident. An active student, Paul maintained a high scholastic average, and was selected to participate in the Honors program in various classes. During his junior year he was a member of the yearbook staff, and also had planned to work on the Highlight, the school newspaper, the following year.

Paul will long be remembered for his friendly personality and ready smile. His presence has been greatly missed by his classmates and friends.

Senior Class History

In the fall of 1963, the class of 1967 began their climb up the ladder of school leadership. Starting with an enrollment of 661, they were soon introduced to the traditions of Ruskin by their upperclassmen. They elected for their freshman class officers John Beeson, president; Lee Thompson, vice-president; Phyllis Smith, secretary; and Debbie Blackburn, treasurer. At their first Homecoming, Tammy Hombs represented the class of 1967 as an attendant. In the spring a "Hobo Dance" was held open to freshmen and sophomores only.

Bells are Ringing was the all school musical during 1963. The foreign exchange student was Juha Rytsola from Finland. In fashion, skirts were just at the knees and the bouffant was the most popular hair-do. President John F. Kennedy's assassination on November 22, 1963, was the most publicized national event.

Returning 571 strong as sophomores the following year, the class of '67 was now a more poised and assured group. For class officers they chose Bill Kuechler, president; Lee Thompson, vice-president; Kelly Strain, secretary; and Flo Putthoff, treasurer.

The class of 1967 became a more integral part of Ruskin life because they were now eligible to join extra-curricular clubs.

Flo Putthoff was elected Homecoming attendant while Cindy Correll was attendant at the Sweetheart Dance. At the Snowball Dance Flo Westmoreland and Carolyn Glenn represented the sophomores. Sue Calvert was chosen to make the annual sophomore pilgrimage to Jefferson City.

Maria Cristina Fuchslocher was the 1964-65 foreign exchange student from Chile. The all school musical was Oklahoma! with sophomore Barbara Stone receiving the feminine lead. Skirts shortened while girl's hair-dos became softer and long hair for boy's was becoming the style. National elections were held during fall 1964 with Democrats taking the lead, and President Lyndon B. Johnson being re-elected.

Class officers chosen by 548 juniors were, Lee Thompson, president; Jim Suddarth, vice-president; Risa Scovill, secretary; and Susan Littlefield, treasurer. Bob Rakoski served as vice-president on the Student Council. Cindy Correll was elected Homecoming attendant; Karen Sprinkle, Sweetheart attendant; and Linda Hall and Carolyn McCollum were Snowball attendants.

Again this year Barbara Stone, as a junior, took the feminine lead in the all school musical, The King and I. Virginia Hannaford from Australia was Ruskin's foreign exchange student.

As juniors they were responsible for financing the prom. Encountering financial trouble, they did not finish paying for it until their senior year. The final highlight of the junior year was receiving their class rings.

Their final year at Ruskin began with a senior enrollment of 480. They elected as their senior class officers Jim Suddarth, president; Walter Carleton, vice-president; Becky Gamble, secretary; and Risa Scovill, treasurer. On the Student Council the seniors also held several offices: Bob Rakoski , president; Steve Svanda, treasurer; and Tammy Hombs, secretary.

Carmen Martinez, the sixth foreign exchange student at Ruskin, was from Spain. Bye Bye Birdie was the 1966-67 all school musical. Mini-skirts were now the style and long hair for both boys and girls had become common. National interest was drawn to civil rights and the war in Vietnam.

Numerous honors and activities occured during their final year. The Eagles ended the season as Suburban Eight Conference Co-Champions and Jim Suddarth was selected for the All Metropolitan football team, and John Beeson and Steve Svanda were recipients of honorable mention. Elected by her classmates, Susan Henny received the D.A.R. award. The senior class won the "Spirit Contest" by donating the most money toward their class treasury. Twenty seniors were nominated to Quill and Scroll. The second annual Powder Puff Football game, between Pep Club, and R.G.A.A. senior girls, was played with Pep Club emerging victorious with a score of 7-6. Linda Hall was elected queen of the Snowball Dance with Bonnie Knitter as her senior attendant. At the Sweetheart Dance Carol Worth was chosen queen with Barbara Stone as her senior attendant. Cindy Correll was queen at Homecoming while Carolyn Glenn and Tammy Hombs served as her attendants.

Prom and then commencement finished the seniors last year at Ruskin. Saying a final farewell to Ruskin, many seniors became misty-eyed as they faced the new life looming before them.

Mr. Coyle is this Driver's Education?

Facets

There are many facets of daily school life. Moments of relaxation, honor, and fun, can all be found. Each month new faces appear and old friends leave to make school life an ever changing vista of minor and major events.

Clyde Dunn takes a rare, free moment to relax.

PRESIDENTS

Christine Kotowski joined Ruskin's faculty midyear as a replacement for Mrs. Williams who left Ruskin for health reasons.

James Haley, the junior homebound student, participates in classes through an intercom system provided by Bell Telephone.

Consolidated School District Number 1 is comprised of fifteen separate schools, kindergarten through twelfth grade. Because there is only one senior high, students in grades seven, eight, and nine attend Ervin or Baptiste Junior Highs. Ruskin's campus, located centrally in the district, occupies a thirty acre plot which includes the Administration Building on the northeast corner of the grounds.

Today Ruskin High School is one of the most modern schools in the Kansas City area. Approximately 1900 students, grades ten through twelve, make use of sixty classrooms. Progressing from a one classroom, one teacher school, Ruskin was an institution consisting of eighty-five faculty members and offering one hundred courses during the past year.

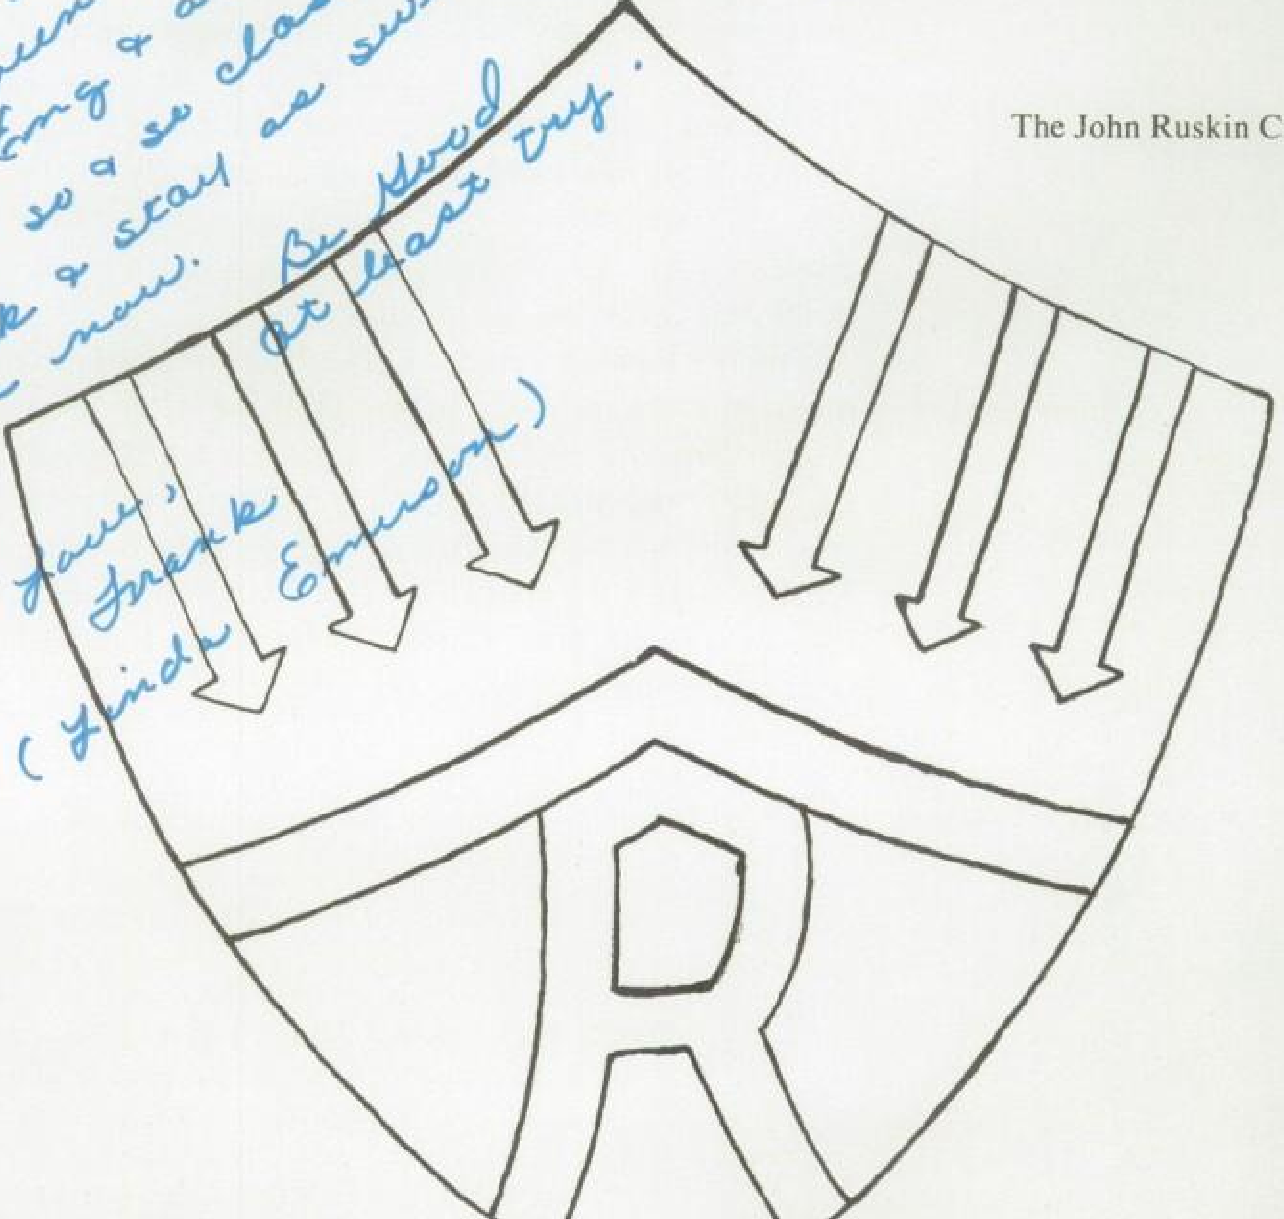
The John Ruskin Crest



Backed by the Flag, David Anchutz and Peggy Dossett observe an assembly.

Made in 1955 by Helen Emery, the original Ruskin flag survived the tornado of 1957 in good condition. The center of interest on the flag is the Golden Eagle which has been placed on a field of royal blue. With wings outspread the eagle represents increasing search for truth and knowledge. The Golden Eagle clutches the John Ruskin Crest, one of Ruskin High School's first emblems. This crest is enclosed in a silver band which represents our world. Within the Ruskin Crest are six arrows pointing to the arched silver band that rises in the center of the crest. This is symbolic of growth, ever reaching to higher successes.

Each arrow within the crest symbolizes one facet of the goals of Ruskin High. Responsibility, symbolized by the first arrow, is the ability to fulfill one's obligations in the world. The second arrow stands for an important trait for a school and student body to possess — that of unity.

Blue And Gold . . .

Symbolizes Ruskin's Goals

Students practice presenting The Colors before a morning assembly.

GOLDEN EAGLE BAND

It was John Ruskin, namesake of this school, who said, "The weakest among us has a gift however seemingly trivial, which is peculiar to him, and which worthily used, will be a gift to his race forever." Through service individual gifts donated by each of us builds the school, community, nation, and spreads to the world about us.

The fourth arrow represents knowledge. Man in his eternal quest for truth and wisdom has established the public school as a partial answer to that search. Initiative — seeing for one's self what ought to be done and doing it, is symbolized by the next arrow. That final arrow is for nobleness — nobleness of character and high standards of conduct which produces a firm foundation for life and makes the five other traits worthwhile. When the first letter of each of the qualities, Responsibility, Unity, Service, Knowledge, Initiative, and Nobleness of character, are combined they spell RUSKIN.

This year the Ski Lodge, also called the Ski Mount or Eagle's Nest, at 2511 E. 119th Street, was re-opened as a result of the Jaycees efforts. Open only to Ruskin students and their dates, the rugged-looking lodge held dances almost every Saturday night with its first dance being held the first part of January and featuring the Dukes.

Student enjoy listening to a popular band as well as dancing and conversing with friends.

The open fireplace in the middle of the building adds a rustic appearance to the Ski Lodge.

Scott,

Sophomores

The first totally divided junior high school classes joined as Sophomores this year. The Baptiste Leprechaun and the Ervin Frontier symbolize the merging of the schools.

Ruskin High School
Hickman Mills, Missouri

Diplomas have always been the keys to the future. The 1926 diploma dwarfs those received by 1967 graduates — the last unified four year class.

Scott —
It's really been a lot of fun knowing you in Geography and it's made the class a little more

During a hectic deadline week, Hazel Rector and Margaret Klee pause for a picture before leaving Ruskin for the day.

Now In Retrospect....

Through the MIRAGE the staff has tried to produce a record of 1966-67 that could be enjoyed during Ruskin's centenial year, 2002. Hours of work, frustration, revision, and tears were forgotten in the culmination of our finished book, and the pride of knowing that the 1967 MIRAGE will help the reader to recall "that special memory."

As the editors of the 1967 MIRAGE we thank those many people who helped us, for without their assistance we could not have completed this yearbook. We wish to extend our gratitude especially to those who assisted us in collecting historical data: Mr. and Mrs. Benn Ervin, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kemper, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Perry, Mr. Blaine Steck, Mrs. Marjorie Langford, and our sponsor, Mrs. Bess Skinner.

We had the pleasure of editing the 1966-67 MIRAGE, and now we sincerely hope that you, the reader, will enjoy your yearbook. As this year becomes a part of the history of Ruskin, it also becomes ... an echo of the past, ... a whisper of tomorrow.
